OVERCHARGES TO THE PUBLIC ARE WITHOUT EXCUSE.

Conditions now, say live stock salesmen, are the same as in 1907, when the packers advanced their prices all along the line without paying any more for cattle on the hoof. They made millions then, it is said, and the figures of to-day seem to show that they are again overcharging the public without valid excuse.

Every other piece and suite at its August reductions of 10 to 331-3 per cent.

Tuesday morning, September 1, will see all the furniture remaining unsold back at our full regular, rightful prices, which you will find written on the August Sale tags on Monday to identify the grades.

Don't be like a customer who came in day before yesterday and, on seeing a mahogany chiffonier marked $44.50, regular price $89, called a salesman and inquired-"Is this the right tag on this chiffonier?"

"Yes," answered the salesman, after examining tag and chiffonier.

"Why," said the customer-a woman-"It's identically the same piece as one for which I paid $93 in an uptown store last week, and I was assured that $95 was the wholesale price." You cannot judge of the values in this Au-
